

AOPs 101: The How and Why of Development and Use

SOT 2014 Ancillary Workshop

March 25, 2014

Co-sponsored by the Human Toxicology Project Consortium and the American Society for Cellular and Computational Toxicology

Workshop Presentations:

Kristie Sullivan (ASCCT) – What are AOPs?

Catherine Willett (HSUS/HTPC) – Why are AOPs important, and how can they be useful?

Terry Schultz (University of Tennessee, Knoxville) – AOPs: Getting Started

Nicole Kleinstreuer (ILS, Inc./NICEATM) – Constructing AOPs for Developmental Toxicities

Grace Patlewicz (Dupont) – Development of an AOP for Skin Sensitization and Practical Applications (slides here)

Mathieu Vinkin (Free University Brussels) – Development and Use of Hepatic AOPs in the SEURAT Project Cluster